Judge Maxwell Attends Northwestern University Symposium on Civil Law

Circuit Judge George W. Maxwell III recently participated in the Fourth Annual Judicial Symposium on Civil Justice Issues December 7-8, at the prestigious Northwestern University School of Law in downtown Chicago. This program provides state and federal judges with a systematic review and critique of the most important civil justice issues of the day. While there, Judge Maxwell attended seminars on such timely topics as litigation under state consumer protection acts, data privacy, and recent developments in asbestos litigation and its implications for other mass torts.

Registration fees and travel expenses for the symposium were underwritten by the law school's Judicial Education Program.

Judge Maxwell has the unique distinction of being both a board-certified civil attorney and long-standing circuit judge. Currently assigned to the Brevard County felony division, Judge Maxwell will return to the civil division in January 2010.
